

30-31 MAY, 2024

Calling: Couple & Family Therapists

Realising Relational Preferences using Internalised Other Interviewing with Individuals, Couples & Families

SYNOPSIS

Learn the 3's of TIPs:
Realignment TIPs,
Recognition TIPs, and Reconciliation TIPs.

These will facilitate therapeutic change by helping clients transition from dispreferred or Pathologising
Interpersonal Patterns
(PIPs) to mutually preferred ways of relating.

SOME KEY TAKEAWAYS:

- Understand interpersonal conflict in couples & family systems from an IP-scopic perspective.
- Utilise concept of TIPs to understand how therapists can facilitate realising preferred ways of relating
- Understand and learn the purpose and practice of internalised other interview questions.
- Make practice-oriented discriminations amongst types of interpersonal conflict
- Learn a series of questions to open space for forgiveness & reconciliation

Joaquín Gaete-Silva, PhD

Executive Director at Calgary Family Therapy Centre
Adjunct Assistant Professor at University of Calgary
Registered Psychologist in Alberta, Canada
Research on TIPs with a focus on interpersonal conflict, problematic behaviour, change process and clinical supervision.

Inés Sametband PhD

Assistant Professor in Department in Psychology,
Mount Royal University
Registered Marriage and Family Therapist (AAMFT)
Research focuses on how locally relevant cultural ideas and practices influence family relations

$1,200/pax

 All fees are subjected to prevailing GST*