

Bio

Ang Xinying believes in providing a safe, therapeutic space to support clients to be curious and compassionate towards themselves, so they could discover more about themselves and how they could relate authentically with their loved ones. Xinying derives joy from journeying with and empowering clients, and feels privileged to witness their healing and growth from difficult experiences. During her free time, Xinying enjoys being with nature (e.g., gazing at waterfalls, hiking), reading and watching dramas/movies/anime.
