Bio

Clement Yee cherishes journeying alongside clients as they make meaning of life's challenges, relationships & the stories they carry about themselves. Shaped along together with his work experiences in healthcare, community & education settings, his practice involves offering safe & collaborative spaces where people can share authentically, make sense of what matters to them, grow in their strengths, and take choice steps towards building their preferred lives.

To refresh while in his zone of self-care, you will find him pacing along with Life through basking in nature walks outdoors, revelling in varieties of music, dramas & gaming, or engrossing in literature & Gundam model kits.
